June 26, 2019

Dear GSK Vaccines Customer:

GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) is excited to announce the debut of an updated carton design for all GSK Vaccines beginning this month. The cartons feature a harmonized look and feel across the portfolio. There is no change in the carton size, product contents or NDC number. Please click here www.gskvaccines.com for a closer look.

The implementation of the updated packaging across the entire GSK Vaccines portfolio is expected to continue throughout 2019 and into 2020. You may receive shipments of products with our current packaging design and updated packaging design during this time. There is no need to return product because of the design change. Products may continue to be utilized according to the product's Prescribing Information and Expiration Date.
